DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-17, 19-28 (renumbered as 1-27) are allowed. The prior art as a whole does not teach or render obvious the claimed invention. The closest prior art, reflective in the opinion of the examiner of the general state of the art, is the O'Reilly reference. O'Reilly generally teaches collections of multimedia files for use on a mobile device (i.e. a theme see paragraph 44). O'Reilly does not teach how the multimedia files are executed and can therefore not teach the execution being combined with a particular multimedia file. The reference previously cited by the examiner as teaching an execution condition combined with a file (Chang) presents a tenuous analog at best and certainly does not teach a system wherein files are stored based on classification and combined with execution conditions for transmission to a mobile device.
